Design

Daniilo Bianchi

His background is linear and traditional for people who aim to become an architect: he attended the Institute of Art in Cantu and he got his diploma. He started soon a collaboration with a design studio near where he lived. This working experience lasted ten years. In 1989, at the age of 31 years old, he opened his own studio. "I interpret my job as a continuous challenge. Whether with myself or with the company that places the order. The blank sheet is an enemy to pull down every time: in order to win a new idea or an original line, that draws an item in an elegant way, are always needed".
